AMERICAN SOLDIER'S BIG COST

(By Frederick M. Kerby.)

Washington, July 10.—No matter what may be the outcome of the present international complications, it is certain that Secretary of War Garrison will recommend to Congress vital reforms in army administration. The Army War College has for some time been studying the question of a United States citizen army, patterned after the Swiss militia system, and Secretary Garrison is now engaged in drafting an army reorganization bill along this line.

What is the Swiss system? How can the little mountain republic organize and support a military force which comprises practically every able-bodied adult male in the country?

According to estimates made by the War College, the American soldier costs something like 28 times as much to maintain as the Swiss soldier. The little republic can mobilize an army corps, fully equipped with rations, munitions, and transport, in three days. It would take at least six months for the United States to mobilize an equal number of citizen soldiers and at the end of that time they would be nowhere near as well trained as the Swiss.

After a careful study of the Swiss militia system, Lieut. Col. George Bell, Jr., declares: "There is something about this army which makes it more to be dreaded than some regular military establishments which show more skill and precision in exercises, but do not possess the endurance, education and wonderful patriotism which would endure anything. Any nation, however powerful, will pause before invading Switzerland, for this army, or nation at arms, before being killed or annihilated by sheer force of numbers, will inflict terrible losses, as, while the Swiss believes in peace, and desires it, above all else, his good sense tells him this is best assured by preparedness at all times."

Another of our officers who has made a detailed study of the Swiss militia system, Col. W. C. Sanger, is quoted as saying: "If proof were needed that a land can train all its citizens for the efficient and intelligent performance of that work that must be done when war comes, and at the same time escape the evils of what is to-day called militarism, that proof can be found in the republic of Switzerland. Without the slightest thought of adding a foot to their territory, but with an intense love of country, and a cheerful willingness to perform every duty which their citizenship entails, they have evolved and developed a military system which has given them the best militia in the world."

The method of mobilization employed by the Swiss army is described in his report by Col. Bell. He described the assembling of a battalion of Swiss militia on September 25 in a certain square in Lucerne: "In this square," he says, "were several tables, and between 8 and 9 o'clock the men commenced to report, completely equipped. As soon as a man reported he took his place in the section to which he belonged, and then commenced a general inspection of the man and his entire equipment by the Lieutenants in charge of these sections.

clean rifle, each man having brought cloth for this purpose. Then, the breechblock being removed and a mirror being put into the breech, each piece was thoroughly scrutinized, the breechblocks were examined, put in place, and tried in the gun several times to see that they worked properly."

Col. Bell then describes the issuance of several blouses brought from the storehouse to replace the dress coats worn by the men from their homes; the serving of the meal prepared by cooks who had reported early, consisting of soup, sausage and bread. Issuance of entrenching tools, which are not kept at home by the men, then took place, and instructions were issued by the commanding officer to his subordinates.

"At 8 o'clock in the morning," says Col. Bell, "there had been practically nothing in the square. Before 2 o'clock there was a complete body of trained soldiers, who had been organized and were ready to entrain."

The Swiss system is essentially democratic, requiring every male citizen to be trained and practiced in arms. The professional soldiers are few and are assigned principally to the work of military education. The "elite" or professional army is composed of all men who pass examinations and are received as recruits. They serve twelve years in the elite, and then pass into the landwehr, and later at the age of 45 to the landsturm.

Regular military service begins for each man at the age of 20, preceded by certain training in rifle shooting and gymnastic exercises in the schools. Recruits are fitted out with a uniform and complete field equipment, including rifle, which articles are taken home and kept with him until the end of his military service at the age of 50.

After learning his duties, only a short period in each year is required for service with the colors, to keep the men in training. There is no "standing army," but instead, every citizen is a soldier, and in case of invasion, the resistance is by the whole nation, trained to arms.

A NEW LAW ADVOCATED REGARDING PUBLICATIONS

The members of the next Legislature will be called upon to pass a law requiring all county school boards to publish, at least once a year, a full and complete statement of all money received and all money paid out and what for, giving each item separate and in full.

The school boards receive and spend vast sums of money each year and the taxpayers have no way to find how much or how it is spent, without going to the county superintendent's office and examining the records, which, of course, is impracticable and impossible, and it is said in some counties the records are badly kept and the inspectors are at a loss to find head or tail of the business of these boards.

Have them make out and have published a full and complete statement of all business transacted, so the people who pay the taxes may know how these vast sums of money have been expended.

Fiscal courts of the counties city councils and banks are by law required to publish statements, and why should not these county school boards of education do the same and let the people know how much money they receive and for what they expend it?—[Mayfield Messenger.]

"Drink plenty of cold water, but do not gulp it."

"Never drink with meals, but immediately after."

"Eat plenty of fruit and vegetables."

"Abstain from sweet soda fountain drinks, unless the syrup is used sparingly in them."

"If you eat moderately and refrain from drugs do not be afraid of sunstroke."—[New York American.]

SUICIDE OF HOLT REVEALS A PLAN

Of His To Blow Up Atlantic Steamers.

A POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION

As Erich Muentner, An Alleged Wife Murderer, Made After Death.

CARELESSNESS OF HIS KEEPER

New York, July 8.—The dead hand of Frank Holt, assassin, bomb-maker and alleged wife murderer, reached out over the Atlantic to-day, and menaced with dynamite two transatlantic liners with nearly 1,000 men, women and children aboard.

Somewhere on the ocean, Holt wrote his wife, the liner Saxonia or the Philadelphia—he wasn't sure which—would be destroyed. A dynamite bomb containing 30 pounds of explosive which Holt is known to have received, and which has not been accounted for, is believed by the police to be the means Holt had chosen to destroy the ship.

While Holt lay a suicide in his cell at Mineola, L. I., where he was taken after his attempted assassination of J. P. Morgan, the wireless cracked a warning over the Atlantic telling of his threat to blow up a ship, and the mystery of his life was cleared away with his positive identification as Erich Muentner, the alleged wife murderer who fled Harvard University in 1906.

Nothing more dramatic in the last few crowded days of Holt's life has come to light than the warning of destruction that was uncovered after his death. His confession that he placed the bomb in the Capitol at Washington last Friday, his attempted assassination of J. P. Morgan, the growing belief that he was Erich Muentner, alleged murderer of his wife, culminating in his positive identification—in death—as Muentner and his sensational suicide by leaping 18 feet from the top of his cell to the floor, formed a series of events to which the threatened destruction of the Philadelphia or the Saxonia fitted as a startling climax.

The powerful wireless stations of the Navy Department were enlisted in the efforts to prevent the threatened disaster at sea. In answer to the warning there was received a message from the captain of the Philadelphia which said that everything aboard had been identified and that all was well. The Saxonia had not replied. Her failure to do so was attributed to the weakness of her wireless batteries, which could not, it was thought, span the distance from midocean to shore without relay.

After an investigation of the circumstances surrounding Holt's death, William Hulse, warden of the Nassau county jail at Mineola, issued the following statement to-day:

"Holt met his death by plunging from the bars of his cell. He fell eighteen feet. His keeper O'Ryan, was in charge of him, and I always believed that O'Ryan was a trustworthy man. His orders from me were never to take his eyes off the prisoner. He was told that if he wanted anything he should rap on the bars with a club, so that his summons would be answered by another keeper."

"In running along the corridor to see what the disturbance was, O'Ryan disobeyed my positive orders. But I did not employ O'Ryan; he was employed by Sheriff Stephen P. Pettit."

Sheriff Pettit left Mineola Monday in accordance with plans made some time ago for his vacation.

At the undertaking establishment where Holt's body was taken a telegram was received to-day from Dr. O. F. Sensabaugh, of Dallas, Tex., Holt's father-in-law, inquiring if the body was ready for shipment to Dallas. District Attorney Smith said that he had no objection to the body being removed to-day for burial. Accordingly a telegram was sent Dr. Sensabaugh advising him that shipment could be made at once. The brain was removed from the body during the autopsy.

No Bombs Found.

New York, July 7.—Fear for the safety of the Cunard liner Saxonia was dissipated late to-day when a wireless message was received in answer to a warning, saying a search revealed no bombs aboard. Frank Holt, who shot J. P. Morgan, asserted that this boat and the Philadelphia, an American liner, were in danger of an internal explosion. An earlier reply from the Philadelphia said no bombs were found aboard.

The tension is not entirely relieved, because it is not known whether he had not left explosives aboard some other vessel. Both left New York for Liverpool July 3, and both are in midocean.

The police learned to-day that Holt bought 200 sticks of forty per cent dynamite here. That found in his trunk was sixty per cent.

Holt will be buried at Ithaca, New York, according to the wishes of his wife, it is said.

MONUMENT UNVEILED— MEMORY OF DANIEL BOONE

Cumberland Gap, Ky., July 10.—More than a thousand people, representing North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky, participated here in the unveiling of a monument commemorating the entry of Daniel Boone and the first party of pioneers into Kentucky, 165 years ago.

Those participating in the unveiling included members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and descendants of Boone and of other pioneers who came into the then Indian country with him.

Markers have been placed from Cumberland Gap to Harrodsburg, in the Blue Grass region of Kentucky, showing the route taken by Boone when he entered this State.

Meeting the Issues.

One of the candidates for Circuit Court Clerk in Nelson county announces that he is against State-wide prohibition. This is highly important, but he doesn't go far enough. He should fix the responsibility for the European War, declare whether he believes Dr. Cook or Capt. Peary discovered the Pole, and by all means set forth his views of the Ship Purchase bill which will be considered at the coming session of Congress. These days the people demand that candidates come out on the issues, and if State-wide prohibition is to be settled by the election of a court clerk in our neighbor county, let time be saved by making other momentous questions issues in the campaign.—[Elizabeth town News.]

MOLASSES ARMY WORM'S UNDOING

Kansas Farmers Meet
and Defeat Invaders

"Agricultural Feller" Thinks Up Novel Scheme For Combating Pest.

OUTWITTING THE ARMY WORM

Nickerson, Kan., July 9.—A busy little worm, with his brother and cousin and a few million more relatives, nearly bluffed the Kansas farmer out of his 300,000,000-bushel wheat harvest this year. The Kansas farmer had to work to save his crop and of all things a Kansas farmer detests, he dislikes work the most. He much prefers to motor.

However, the worry is over. The wheat is all right once more and the harvest is at its fullest, bringing work and sore backs to thousands of green hands.

Molasses proved the undoing of the pesky worm and his countless relatives.

After the annual hailstorms and near-cyclones had destroyed the customary hundreds of acres, the Kansas farmer supposed his troubles were over. They were not. The unexpected came along in the form of the army worm—so-called because, German-like, they charge in mass and in hosts and sweep a field of wheat clean from one side to the other.

It looked bad. But molasses proved as deadly to the army worms as chlorine gas does to the Allies in Europe.

"We sure had a tough time of it," remarked farmer Newton to-day, as he motored into town. "I told my foreman (get that? 'my foreman') 'I told my foreman he jest had to rig up some scheme to counter-attack the doggone critters. I be goddarned I was gonna lose the crop at that stage. So he and one of them experts from the agricultural college got together and thunk out molasses. That's what we used for the most part in fightin' the worms. An' it done its work o. k. Sometimes I think them agricultural fellers are dern near intelligent."

Kansas farmers used hogheads, barrels, kegs and buckets of molasses and syrup in their successful campaign to stop the advance of the army worm. It is difficult to buy a quart of molasses in the short grass country to-day. The army worm got it all.

The "agricultural feller" discovered that the army worm had a sweet tooth. He would leave wheat any day for molasses. The experts advise that band and Paris green be added to the molasses to make the sweet meat more tempting. The mixture was spread broadcast through the wheat fields. Attracted by the delicious smell, the worms fell easy victims to the Paris green blend.

Many farmers dug ditches around fields untouched by the worms and dumped in molasses. The foolish worms, utterly regardless of the astounding loss of life, charged at the standing grain and were caught fast in the sticky trenches. The slaughter was terrible. No barbed wire entanglements were used.

A farmer called up a small town merchant and told him to get four barrels of molasses ready for him that afternoon.

"What's the matter with you?" demanded the merchant, "are you nutty?"

"No," retorted the farmer, "but we have wormy nuts. Get that there molasses ready for me."

Cupid Special Arrives.

New York, July 9.—The Swedish-American liner United States, which arrived to-day, might with propriety have been called the Cupid Special. Among her passengers were 10 brides-elect, who were met by as many husky young Swedish swains. Ten gallant customs inspectors rummaged as carefully as possible through 10 big trunks, while inquiring eyes were turned the other way by soft, persuasive heads. Then came the Marriage License Bureau.

Among other passengers was Inga Sontum, of Christiana, who is en route to Newport to teach society dances.

Two men were working on the highway of a town in Northern Maine. As they worked, they discussed various people and affairs of national importance. Finally one of them referred to the Secretary of War, and the other asked:

"Hiram, who is the present Secretary of War?"

"I don't remember his name," said Hiram, "but here comes old Bill Morgan. We'll ask him."

So as old Morgan drove up, one of the laborers called out: "Hey, Bill, can you tell us who the Secretary of War is?"

"Well," said Bill, "I oughter know but I can't seem to remember." And he drove on, thinking deeply. Soon the two men saw Bill coming back, and when he came within hailing distance, he called out: "Say, you fellers, what war did you mean?"

Democrats of Ohio county now have the opportunity of a lifetime to furnish the next Circuit Judge for this District. What will you do about it?

Ohio County Democrats know a good thing when they see it and we confidently believe they will go after this honor with a vim by working early and late for Judge Glenn.

The Elizabethtown News wants to know "Where is Teddy interned and what has he been doing that he has to lie still?" Does the News refer to his physical repose or some connection with the Ananias Club?

They are putting "shock absorbers" on automobiles nowadays. Come to think of it, one of these contraptions is needed in almost every newspaper office in the land. The editor often hears of things that he dassent print.

Editor Loving W. Gaines, of the Todd County Progress, wants it known that he is still in the race for Lieutenant Governor and will remain so until the end. Mr. Gaines is well qualified for this responsible and honorable position and would fit the place with becoming grace. His many friends of the press wish him the greatest success in his campaign.

Those who figure out statistics say that more people were killed and wounded by automobiles in and about New York on the 4th than by fireworks. Perhaps the ratio was about the same in other thickly populated communities. Every day should be a safe and sane day for the auto and its driver, everywhere, but too often it is not the case. There should be a special law for the intoxicated driver—whether owner of the car or not—if it can be proven he was in that condition at any time while operating a car.

It is estimated that the lamb and wool crop of Kentucky this season will be worth $8,000,000 and will exceed in value that of the wheat crop. There are a number of farm products besides tobacco which Kentucky can raise as well as any State in the Union if her farmers will only once get started in earnest. Tobacco, if raised at all, should be a side crop, so that if anything goes wrong in season or marketing, it will not make much difference. Too much dependence in tobacco has impoverished many Kentucky farmers.

In other communities besides Ohio county they are talking about enforcement of the law being the paramount issue and the main question with the people. And this is the right view to take of the matter. Too long has Kentucky suffered under the odium of being the home of feuds and fighters, the habitat of the alleged "possum hunter" and the proven "blind tiger." Kentucky has as good laws as any State, if they are only enforced. It is in them that her orderly citizenship place their reliance. Her laws should be obeyed and her mandates carried out.

The United States, like other countries of immense population, has its "cranks" who attack men in high life and are usually men of the criminally insane species. The latest specimen was Frank Holt, alias Erich Muentner—or the reverse. The men who assassinated Presidential characters were quite numerous. There was Booth who killed Lincoln, Guiteau who killed Garfield, Czolgoz, who killed McKinley and John S. Schrank who tried to kill Roosevelt. They are all of the same type and their murderous actions are liable to develop at any moment, these brain-wrecking war times. They should all be put where they can do no further harm, one way or another.

With the primary now less than a month off, it is becoming more apparent that Judge J. S. Glenn will be given the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge from this, the Sixth Judicial District, by a good majority. While this is true, it behooves his friends to do their best to make his nomination absolutely certain by piling up for him as big a majority as possible. Ohio county Democrats should give him an overwhelming majority as a matter of local pride. It goes without question that Judge Glenn is thoroughly qualified and peculiarly fitted for the position to which he aspires. This, together with his fealty to his party in all County, District, State and National elections for the past quarter of a century, does as we believe, insure his nomination which is equivalent to election in this district.

SINKER OF LUSTANIA
CAUGHT IN BRITISH NET

New York, July 12.—The German submarine which sank the Lusitania has been captured by the British in one of the English Channel nets, and the officers and crew imprisoned.

This was the statement made by Lewis Charles Lewis, son of a partner in the firm of Lewis & Lewis, of 581 Fifth avenue, who arrived today with his aunt, Mrs. J. Simmonds, on the American liner St. Paul.

Mrs. Simmonds and her nephew are residents of England and came here to stay during the war.

Lewis said that two weeks before the St. Paul left England his father, who is closely connected with Government sources of information, told him of the capture.

The crew was quietly placed in prison and no mention made of the capture, because the British Government feared an uprising of the people and a general public demand that the crew be hanged.

"The submarine was either the U-24 or the U-29, I can't remember which," said Lewis. "The officers, after their capture, admitted it was their boat which destroyed the Lusitania."

G. B. LIKENS THE LEADING CANDIDATE IN CONTEST

Democratic leaders throughout the State are unanimous in the opinion that G. B. Likens is leading the field in the race for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, and they also believe that his selection will redound to the credit of the party, being sure to add strength to the ticket in the November election, bringing votes from all classes. Mr. Likens' record as Assistant Auditor was a splendid one, and those with whom he came in contact are now his ardent supporters in the coming primary. This element hopes to see him chosen as a Democratic standard-bearer with a substantial plurality on August 7. He is a native of Hartford and served as Chairman of the Ohio County Democratic Committee for four years, his ability as an organizer being a big aid to the party in that section.—[Kentucky Irish American.]

WIFE DECLARED GUILTY OF KILLING HUSBAND

Harrodsburg, Ky., July 10.—Mrs. Laura Peavler, who shot and killed her husband, H. C. Peavler, at their home in this county, February 27, last, was found guilty by a jury here late to-night. She was sentenced to spend from eight to twenty years in the penitentiary.

The courtroom was crowded when the verdict was returned. When the jury filed in, the court instructed the deputies to keep order and warned those present that if there was any demonstration when the verdict was read the disturbers would be arrested and put in jail.

Mrs. Peavler admitted shooting her husband, but declared she did it to save her own life and after he had threatened to kill her. Sentiment in the community was strongly in her favor and it was generally believed the case would result in a mistrial. The jury was out four hours.

Now is the time to talk good roads, to act good roads and to take steps to procure good roads all over the county. It is no time to "let George do it." The people from Beaver Dam and the southwestern part of the county will be met on the Hartford and Centertown road at the Amos Miller lane by a big delegation of Hartford people in all sorts of vehicles, and form in procession to the court house. Several bands are expected to furnish music for the occasion. The president, Dr. Oscar McKinney, will state the purpose of the meeting and some of the plans of the association. R. E. Woods, of Louisville, representative of the State's Good Roads Department, will make an address. Also R. E. Lee Simmerman, W. W. Browder, our farm demonstrator, and others will make short talks.

BANK ROBBERS FIGHT
BAND OF 100 CITIZENS

Little Rock, Ark., July 10.—Seven bank robbers early yesterday engaged in an hour's hot pistol battle with more than 100 citizens of England, Lonoke county, near here, drove their attackers into the main hotel of the town after failing to dynamite the safe of the bank of England and then escaped in an automobile. N. W. Whitlock, town marshal of England, was wounded seriously in the fight. The robbers got away with about $200 from the tills of the bank's cage.

MEETING OF TEACHERS
WAS VERY ENJOYABLE

The session of the Ohio County Teachers' Institute, held in College Hall last week, was perhaps the most successful that has ever been held in the county. Five days sessions were made very interesting by an able response from each teacher, ably assisted by our worthy instructor, Prof. U. C. Barnett, from Dermott, Ark.

The evening sessions were also very entertaining and instructive, being enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience at each session. On Monday evening Prof. McHenry Rhoads, State Supervisor of High Schools, gave a splendid address on Social Life of the School.

Tuesday evening the Ladies Literary Club gave us an interesting program which was very much appreciated by the teachers, not alone for its splendid literary merit but also for the exceedingly kind and social spirit manifested.

Wednesday evening Mrs. Whitesides, from Louisville, a champion of woman suffrage, gave a splendid lecture.

Thursday evening the Common School Graduating exercises were held in College Hall, the largest audience of the week being present. Instructive and inspiring addresses were made by Prof. I. S. Mason, Hon. Ben D. Ringo and Prof. U. C. Barnett. The diplomas were presented in a very pleasing manner by Supt. Ozna Shults.

A most delightful part of the week's entertainment was on Thursday afternoon, when refreshments were served to the teachers by quite a number of their friends and well wishers. Freshments consisted of cream, cake, bananas, lemonade, etc.

JOHN H. THOMAS.

Hon. John H. Thomas, who writes "Beads Oddly Strung" for the Sun and which has attracted wide and favorable comment, is making a winning fight for the Republican nomination in the Senatorial district composed of the counties of Ohio, Butler and Muhlenberg. Mr. Thomas has been a long and faithful party worker, always in the trenches in the past. He was connected with the last State Campaign Committee, in charge of the press bureau, and has a number of times managed campaigns in Ohio county, where he is exceedingly popular with the rank and file as well. In fact, he is the overwhelming choice of his home county, which under a long established rule, is to furnish the nominee this time. In this district a nomination is equivalent to election and Mr. Thomas' friends are already congratulating him on his election to the Senate, where he is sure to make a splendid record and bring honor to his district as well as faithful, earnest service to his State.—[Kentucky Sun.—Advertisement.]

Mr. R. E. Williams, of Dawson Springs, passed through Hartford Monday, enroute to visit his son, Mr. Rufus Williams, Hartford, Route 7.

Dr. J. W. Repass, President of Logan College, Russellville, Ky., delivered a splendid sermon at the Methodist church here last Sunday morning to a good sized audience.

Mr. C. M. Derr, general manager for the Kentucky Rural Credit Association, arrived in town Monday and will be here for a week or ten days. See his announcement on this page.

Dr. Bean has graciously tendered the proceeds of his picture show to the ladies of the Methodist church until September 1. Come out Friday and Saturday evenings and help the ladies.

Mr. M. P. Maddox and daughter, Mary J. Maddox, Centertown, Route 1; J. R. Likens, McHenry; John R. Himes, West Hartford, and S. M. Maddox, Beaver Dam, Route 1, were among The Herald's callers Friday.

Mr. M. O. Hughes, Bowling Green, Ky., District Farm Agent for Western Kentucky, was with County Farm Demonstrator W. W. Browder two days last week, visiting some of our fine farms. He also made a splendid talk at the Teachers' Institute.

Messrs. W. E. Ellis & Bro., the local feed store men, have leased the Hartford Milling Co. plant and will operate it in the future. The new firm will be known as the Ellis Flour Milling Company and they will deal in flour and feedstuff at first hand.

A series of meetings will begin at the Christian church in Fordsville, this county, the latter part of this month, the exact date to be announced later. Eld. Ernest House, a noted evangelist, will do the preaching. Eld. House will be accompanied by a gentleman who will lead the singing.

In this issue of The Herald will be found an article headed: "Kentucky Taxpayers, Which Do You Want?" We publish this at a stipulated price per inch as all other advertisements are placed in these columns, and it in no wise represents the views of this paper, politically or otherwise.

Several times lately people have been disappointed at not getting advertisements or articles for publication in The Herald because they came in or were presented too late. Some people seem to think that it takes only two or three days to get out The Herald. This is a mistake. It is a weekly paper and it takes just about a week to do the work. The sooner we get ads. or articles for publication, the better, as we can give them more attention. We go to press on Tuesday evenings at four o'clock, and the amount of matter to fill is usually up several hours before that time. Please let us have your favors, allowing plenty of time.

Hon. Ben D. Ringo, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney, was in Hartford a few days last week, mixing among his many old friends. Mr. Ringo's splendid record as an upright, conscientious and fearless official has a strong hold upon the minds of the people.

Members of the Hartford Baptist church in session Wednesday night voted to call Rev. Creel, and he has accepted. He preached Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Creel is now pastor of the Baptist church at Beaver Dam and he will continue to make his home there, devoting half his time to Hartford.

Rev. H. B. Gwinn, pastor of the First Christian Church, of Hartford, left yesterday in company with his wife in their automobile for several weeks vacation. They first go to Frankfort for a few days fishing on Elkhorn. Creelsboro will be their next stop and from there they go to Jamestown, where Rev. Gwinn will hold a meeting. They will return to Hartford about the middle of September.

News has recently come to Hartford that Capt. W. E. Bennett, who is well known and has relatives here, suffered a paralytic stroke the latter part of last month. For many years Capt. Bennett has been in the regular army and is now stationed at Manila, P. I. At last account he was being taken to a San Francisco hospital, where it is hoped he will soon recover.

Mrs. Harry R. Whitesides, of Louisville, champion of the Woman's Suffrage cause, spoke at Hartford College Wednesday night to a good sized audience, despite the threatening weather at the hour of going. Her talk was very entertaining and instructive, as she is a good speaker and well posted upon the suffrage question at all angles. She has the culture and educational qualifications to present her subject in the most plausible and convincing manner. Her speech aroused considerable interest here in this cause which is coming forward with such wonderful strides nowadays.

Soldiers' Encampment.

Company H, Third Infantry, our local militia, will leave to-morrow at 8:45 in charge of Capt. J. M. DeWeese, for Owensboro to take part in the annual State Encampment which lasts for ten days. There will be about 65 soldier boys in the bunch. Corporal Blair and Privates Russell, Johnson and Clark will leave Pleasant Ridge this afternoon, in heavy marching order, on a hike to Owensboro. They will bivouac in the McGee woods, 8 miles out, to-night and arrive in Owensboro Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Privates Cecil Hooks and Wm. B. Holbrook left yesterday for Owensboro on a special detail. Barring rain, the encampment promises to be a very enjoyable affair.

WAS BADLY INJURED BY FRIGHTENED HORSES

Mr. R. P. Baird, who has charge of the Standard Oil delivery wagon, was badly injured about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning while driving his team on the levee just north of Hartford. He was going out the levee and when in front of the Martin tenant residence he met a wagon with a large frame covered with black oil cloth and when along side, the team driven by Mr. Baird became frightened and began to back off the levee, an embankment about 8 feet high. When Mr. Baird saw that the wagon was going over, he jumped, alighting about the middle of the ditch. The horses, by the force of the wagon, were thrown into the ditch, one of them falling on him. His wagon turned over twice.

Mr. A. M. Barnett, who was working in his field near by, and Alex Vick, the colored man who lives in the Martin house, ran and extricated Mr. Baird from his perilous position. Dr. Tichenor's automobile was telephoned for and he was brought to town, where it was found he had suffered a compound fracture of his leg between the knee and ankle.

After receiving first aid he was taken to his home at Beaver Dam, where the fracture was set. At the hour of going to press Mr. Baird was doing as well as could be expected.

Notice.

We have leased the flour mill of the Hartford Mill Co. Have employed a first-class miller and as soon as we can get the mill thoroughly rehailed and equipped, we will be in position to do custom grinding and do a general milling business. Give us a trial and we will convince you that there is no better flour. The style of the new business is Ellis Flour Mill. We will continue the Feed and Produce business at our old stand.

SKIPPED OUT—RESULT OF COURT OF INQUIRY

Quite a number of witnesses from Simmons, this county, were in attendance at the court of inquiry held before Judge Jno. B. Wilson Monday.

It seems that the community has been infested with "bootleggers" and the citizens started the investigation, bringing it before Judge Wilson.

After the examination of several witnesses by County Attorney S. E. Smith, several true bills were found and a writ was issued for the arrest of one Raymond Willett and placed in the hands of the sheriff. But before it could be served, Willett made his escape and has not yet been apprehended.

We are informed that Willett really came to town to enter a plea of guilty, but the evidence produced showed so many sales that he changed his mind as well as location very suddenly, just before the writ was issued.

A. S. of E. Notice.

Ohio County A. S. of E. Stock Committee will ship stock from Beaver Dam, July 20. All those wishing to ship, please notify me at once. HENRY M. PIRTLE, Sec'y. Hartford, Ky., Route 1.

Sunday School at Beech Grove is progressing nicely despite the fact that it rains almost every Sunday. The Ohio County Teachers' Institute was as usual a success, and the movement, planned and started by Prof. U. C. Barnett, in which the schools of the county are to meet in friendly contests, will mean much if properly carried out.

Takes Her Own Life.

Eminence, Ky., July 10.—Mrs. Bettie Bryant, of Franklinton, this county, committed suicide here by swallowing poison. She was nearly 70 years old and had been in ill health for several years. Despondency over her condition is supposed to have caused her rash act. She was prominently connected.

Apple Grove Farm Birkshires.

We have three registered Birkshire boars for sale. These boars were farrowed March 27, 1915. They are of good quality. Prices right. F. W. PIRTLE & SON, 2814 Hartford, Ky., Route 1.

Ptomaine Poisoning.

Columbus, Ind., July 10.—Ptomaine poisoning, which killed a large number of horses and mules in this county two years ago, has again made its appearance, and today Mrs. Mary Streitlemeier, a widow near here, lost three mules and a horse by the disease, which the State veterinarian says is caused by feeding rotted and musty corn.

Father Acquitted.

Hawesville, Ky., July 8.—A. H. Adkins, who killed one son, Frank Adkins, and wounded another, Will Adkins, on Sunday, June 6, was exonerated by the grand jury here, as it was shown that the father fired in order to protect his own life.

OF THE SITUATIONTaken By Washington

ANENT THE NOTE OF GERMANY

Upon President Rests Burden Of Deciding Future Policy Of U. S.

A CRISIS SEEMS IMPENDING

Washington, July 10.—Official Washington takes a grave view of the situation produced by Germany's refusal to meet the demands of the United States growing out of the Lusitania incident when more than 100 Americans lost their lives. Upon President Wilson rests the burden of deciding the policy which the United States will follow. Quietly and carefully he is considering the situation, it was stated to-night at the White House, after a telephone conversation with the President at Cornish, N. H. The country, he says, will expect him to act with deliberation as well as firmness when he has examined all phases of the problem.

Secretary Lansing withheld comment. As soon as the complete official text of the German reply arrives to-morrow, he will begin its careful study and on Monday or Tuesday go to Cornish, N. H. for a conference with the President. President Wilson will then return and lay before the cabinet the course upon which he will have determined.

There is no definite crystallization of opinion among officials as to the details, but there is a distinct tendency toward a reiteration of the formal note and the actual practice of the principles for which the United States has been contending.

There is a unanimous verdict of high authority that the German reply is thoroughly unsatisfactory, and leaves the situation at exactly the point where it was in the days immediately following the sinking of the Lusitania. In the absence of any word from President Wilson no definite indication of what might be done eventually is obtainable.

Secretary Lansing stated that, while he had no reason to doubt the correctness of the version transmitted in the news dispatches, no formal consideration could be given to the question until Ambassador Gerard's official copy has been received.

It was pointed out that the American Government and Germany had practically reached a deadlock on the law in the case, evidently neither side being willing to recede from its position. The situation was now thought to resolve itself entirely into a question of policy, which depends on President Wilson.

Opinions varied as to the President's probable course, but it was believed likely that he would again wait the crystallization of public sentiment in the country and endeavor in his next move to interpret the wishes of the American people. The whole question, in the minds of many officials, seemed to hinge on whether there is another violation by Germany of the rights for which the United States contends. It was recognized that since the Lusitania was sunk and the negotiations were begun, German submarines have given warnings, as in the case of the Armenian and the Anglo-Californian. If the German practice continues to square with international law, some officials here do not believe an academic discussion of principles would be placed in jeopardy by prolonging the parleys.

On the other hand, there was a general belief that any further destruction of American life in contravention of law would bring the situation to a sharp and critical juncture which would make difficult the continuance of friendly relations.

Treatment of the Lusitania case, however, seemed in the view of some officials to offer possible obstacles to a prolongation of the negotiations, as the United States asked for a disavowal of the act and received none.

On the other hand, those in official quarters familiar with diplomatic precedents and the progressive development of the American attitude, believed that, having stated its position and asked for assurances which now have been refused, the only course left open for the United States seemed to be an announcement that it intended to assert its rights as established under the rules of international law. This would mean in effect that the United States would await a violation by Germany before taking action to compel respect for the rights asserted.

There was a revival of talk concerning the severance of diplomatic relations, it being recalled in official circles that in the now famous cabinet meeting of May 11, when the sinking of the Lusitania was first considered, there was an informal understanding that if the negotiations by the United States to secure reparation from Germany for the destruction of American lives in that tragedy failed, the American Government might be justified in discontinuing diplomatic intercourse with Germany.

OLATON.

July 12.—We had another hard rain Sunday morning which retards wheat threshing. Mr. Morgan Patterson has threshed his wheat. He had 556 bushels—the largest crop in this vicinity. He is asking $1.50 per bushel for his wheat and I am of the opinion he will get it by holding awhile.

Mr. C. D. Bean went to Sulphur Springs Sunday to visit his brother, W. F. Bean.

Miss Myrtle E. Canan, who had been visiting at Sulphur Springs for two weeks, returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Pence, of Florida, are visiting Mrs. Pence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons will regret to learn that the family physician in New Mexico, where they went in search of health for Mrs. Lyons, has advised Mr. Lyons to return to Kentucky with his wife as soon as he can, the climate not being of any benefit and she is gradually growing worse. Mrs. Lyons is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Daniel.

Mr. W. T. Daniel is on the sick list.

Rev. Aaron Ross began a two-weeks protracted meeting at the Baptist church here last, Saturday night.

Rev. Vanhoy filed his regular appointment at the Methodist church here Sunday evening.

Mr. A. C. Porter, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Court Clerk, was in Olaton and vicinity last week, shaking hands with his friends.

A. O. Stanley seems to be in the lead in these parts. James P. Edwards, for Lieut. Governor, has the lead here. There is getting to be considerable discussion over the race for Circuit Judge—more than I anticipated at the beginning. Ben D. Ringo seems to be floating along "on flowery beds of ease" in this part of Ohio county.

Misses Fronie and Nettie Salsman went to Sulphur Springs Sunday afternoon.

Mr. M. V. Crowder began the Olaton school this morning.

Mr. Bud Pence and wife, Mr. Robert Arms, Miss Zella Lyons and Mrs. Paradine Canan attended the unrolling exercises at Rosine Sunday. They went over in Mr. Arms' automobile.

SIMMONS.

July 12.—Miss Cora Maples, of Hartford, is visiting her sisters, Mrs. John Carter and Mrs. Fred Tatum.

Miss Harriet Midkiff, of Magan, is visiting Mrs. Dr. Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Carter, of Daniel Boone, Ky., visited Mr. Carter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carter, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. W. H. Riley was here Friday. Several of the boys from here attended the court of inquiry at Hartford Monday.

Mr. Myrtle Hudson, Beaver Dam, was in town Monday on business.

The school at this place began Monday morning with Mr. Sherman Taylor as teacher and Miss Nellie Johnson assistant.

Mr. W. L. Day went to Morgantown Sunday to visit his grandfather, who is very ill.

Mr. M. F. Chumley spent Sunday in Beaver Dam.

HOPEWELL.

July 12.—Mrs. Louisa Rock, of Wysox, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. W. D. Shull.

Miss Sue Russell is still in Louisville. She is not able to come home yet.

Mrs. H. King, son Master Paul and Miss Jessie Taylor, of East St. Louis, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

The oil company of Virginia that has leased much land around here, is preparing to bore wells. The first well will be bored on the Willer farm, near the northeast corner of John Cummins' farm.

Mr. Fox Brown threshed over 700 bushels of oats and has more to thresh yet.

Messrs. John Hanly and Arthur Cathart, who came to this country from Ireland about four years ago as ministers of the gospel, are going to preach a few days here in our church.

TWO FAMILIES MET A
STRANGE FATALITYAlthough Separated By Three City Blocks, Death Overshadowed Them.

Cincinnati, O., July 10.—Stranger than fiction was the tragic fate of the Cohen and Tennenbaum families in the tornado that devastated whole sections of Cincinnati Wednesday night.

The Cohens lived at 572 West Sixth street; the Tennenbaums at 643 West Eighth street.

Three city blocks separated them. Mrs. Esther Cohen and Israel Tennenbaum were sister and brother.

Visiting at the home of the Tennenbaums were Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Barrett, Indianapolis, brother-in-law and sister-in-law of Meyer Tennenbaum.

Why was it that the storm, sweeping like a scythe, first descended on the Tennenbaum home, destroying four of its women and children and then, as though guided by an Unseen Hand, picked its way to the Cohen home and there snuffed out the lives of the mother and four of her little ones?

Shortly before the Tennenbaum home was struck, the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, went out to call on some friends in the neighborhood. They missed death by barely half an hour.

Neighbors and friends only shrug their shoulders or say, "It was God's will" when the men of the Cohen and Tennenbaum families cry out in their anguish, "Why were our families so punished, while hundreds of other families all about us were uninjured?"

By another miracle, equally strange, the men of the two families escaped with their lives.

Israel and Meyer Tennenbaum, father and son, were sitting in the kitchen of their home. The tornado swept them through the open door into the backyard and there almost buried them, although uninjured, under a mass of dirt and other debris.

Over at the Cohen home, Louis Cohen, the father, was buried under the wreckage with his wife and children, but nine hours after the wife had been taken out, to die en route to the hospital, he was found alive. The area between the Cohen and Tennenbaum homes suffered great storm damage, but no lives were lost in this section, except in these two families.

It will be weeks before Cincinnati fully recovers from the disaster.

BEAVER DAM.

July 12.—Mrs. Edna Mulinix, whose remains were brought here from Liverpool, W. Va., for burial last Friday, was a daughter of the late Edgar Hurt. Two years ago Mr. G. E. Mulinix was assistant depot agent here for a short time. During his stay he won the heart of Miss Edna Hurt. He later returned to his home in West Virginia. Some time after his return home Miss Edna met him in Louisville, where they were married. They lived happily together until that fell destroyer consumption robbed him of his young wife. Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church Saturday by Rev. Russell, after which her remains were interred in Oakwood cemetery Hartford, by the side of her mother.

Miss May Towery, of Princeton, Ky., is visiting Miss Myrl Miller and other friends in town this week.

Miss Era Gardner, of Glendale, Ky., is visiting in town this week and stopping with Miss Myra Flener.

There were five threshers at work in the vicinity of Beaver Dam one day last week.

The Beaver Dam Milling Co. is taking all good wheat at one dollar per bushel and the farmers are delivering from the threshers. Some crops are turning out well, while others are not so good.

Accidentally Shot.

Cloverport, Ky., July 10.—Mrs. Henry Solbrig was accidentally shot in the left side at her home in this city yesterday afternoon. The bullet entered the left side, moving on down into the lower part of the abdomen. Her condition is not considered serious, and she will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Solbrig were sitting out on the front porch at their residence, and Mr. Solbrig was cleaning out a 22 rifle, when it went off and shot his wife.

A man can sometimes gain his point almost as easily with logic as a woman can with tears.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE MAKES FINE TALK TO TEACHERS

presses Them With the Fact That Illiteracy Is Great Handicap.

Short speech delivered before recent Ohio County Teachers' Institute.)

Mr. Superintendent, Teachers of county, ladies and gentlemen:
The subject which has been assigned me is "How to Stamp Out Illiteracy in Kentucky." This is a subject of vast importance to you as teachers and to us as trustees. It is for you and for us to help to stamp out this all-important question.

We justly boast of the twentieth century enlightenment. We point pride to our many churches, schools. We gladly tell of our excellent district schools, our high schools, our two Normal Schools,
Kentucky Colleges and State University. I say we are proud of fact that our schools are what they are. But there is a gloomy side to this question of enlightenment.

Let us now take a glance at the side.

We will look closely into the fact of Kentucky's illiteracy we find a large number of Kentuckians who can neither read nor write; gray-headed men and gray-headed women who cannot spell own names, and also young men and women in the bloom of life who cannot read a sentence of great English language.

Let us who profess to be leaders in the great cause of education ask ourselves and know that such conditions as these really exist? Not moment. All of you teachers are leaders in your respective units. Each of you should know in his power to stamp out the evil of ignorance from your unit. How are you to do it, take an inventory of the evil; find out the names of all the evil; find out the names of all

the evil; find out the names of all

the evil; find out the names of all

In your district too old to attend school who can neither read nor write.

Second, organize what is commonly known as a Moonlight School, and invite all those who can neither read nor write and who drop out of school age, to attend this school.
However you must get the influential citizens of your district to assist you in this matter.

Third, see that all pupils of the school age attend some school, as required by law. These things are not mere theories but have been tried out and are proving to be successes.

Another great force that will help stamp out illiteracy is public opinion. The teacher should try to mold public opinion against illiteracy.
You say that public opinion is already against illiteracy, which is true to a certain degree but not sufficient to play a great part in stamping it out. The average citizen really never thinks about the great question of illiteracy. It is your business as teachers to call these facts to the minds of the people, cause them to see that a prosperous State cannot be built on a foundation of illiteracy. Even more, make them see that our own Commonwealth cannot tolerate illiteracy. In fact, ladies and gentlemen, you must give the people a vision of a greater Kentucky. Show them a Kentucky-to-be, that knows no ignorance. Give them a glimpse of a Kentucky that is equal to her sister States in every respect. Teach the people in your respective neighborhoods to love and respect the cause of education. Let them know that there is a work for them to do, and they will no doubt gladly cooperate with you in the great cause of stamping out illiteracy in Kentucky.

You teachers are the ones who shall determine whether or not illiteracy shall exist in Kentucky. We as trustees will pledge ourselves to support you in every way possible.
Call upon us when you wish. Let our motto be "No illiteracy in Kentucky." Let us say that

"The land of the Dark and Bloody Ground
Reflects upon the world renown."

I thank you. J. F. LITSEY.

What a cinch it would be for the country if he could have as patients all the people who are blind to their own faults.

THE ONE-TERM PLEDGE MATTER IS EXPLAINED

And Will Have Little Effect In Wilson's Certain Re-nomination.

Washington, July 10.—Reports that former Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan would demand that respect be given to the one-term pledge of the Baltimore convention have been based, it is said, on statements which Mr. Bryan is reputed to have made to friends. It is recalled that during the last campaign he laid stress in many speeches on the one-term plank.

Whatever Bryan decides to do, it is sure that in certain Democratic quarters, where peace is regarded as highly desirable from a party standpoint, stress will be laid upon the actual language of that plank.
It reads: "We favor a single Presidential term, and to that end we urge the adoption of an amendment to the constitution making the President of the United States ineligible for re-election and we pledge the candidate of this convention to this principle."

As commonly interpreted, the candidate of the convention was pledged to retirement after a single term in office; a strict reading of the plank, aside from interpretations given it during the 1912 campaign, may indicate that the pledge is to be the principle of a constitutional amendment and that until such an amendment is adopted Democratic Presidents are free to do as they please. If this latter interpretation is permitted, the President is free to do as he pleases.

The common opinion, as understood here, is that the President will have a walkaway in the next Democratic convention, whether Mr. Bryan opposes him or not. The President has gained strength more rapidly than his former Secretary of State.

Louisville, Ky., July 10.—Pro-

33-1-3 per cent of the average for the last five years.

Kentucky reached this understanding at a meeting the other day.
During the present fiscal year the distilleries operated under a 50 per cent, agreement.

A resolution adopted by the distillers declared that the decrease in production in 1915 was brought about by the excess in crops made during the four previous years, amounting to about 25 per cent over the annual consumption, and further due to the high prices of all grain. The same conditions exist this year; the resolution sets forth, after which the stocks will be properly adjusted to meet the normal demand.

I have brought the celebrated

Walnut Grove Chief will only be here for a short time, after which he will be shipped to Leitchfield, for some of the big stakes this sea-

FRIGHTFUL STORM SWEEPS COUNTRY

Leaving Death and Devastation Behind.

CINCINNATI SUFFERS HEAVILY

Twins Killed at Two Places
—One Fatality Recorded
In Kentucky.

NUMBER VICTIMS IN INDIANA

The death list has grown as complete reports come in from districts devastated by the disastrous storm of Wednesday night. Thirty bodies have been recovered at Cincinnati and many persons still are unaccounted for.

A dozen or more persons were killed in Indiana. Kentucky, however, had but one victim—Mrs. Jno. Daule, of South Erlanger, who met death when her home collapsed. Two farmers were killed in Daviess county, Ind., and twin daughters of James Moore were crushed when their home was destroyed. Five-year-old twin children in Lawrence county, Ind., also met tragic death, near Indian Springs.

Thirty Bodies at Cincinnati. Cincinnati, O., July 9.—With the total death list reaching thirty and with the list of missing slowly decreasing, Cincinnati to-day began burying its dead, the human toll taken by the storm of Wednesday night.

Probably the most pathetic incident following the storm occurred to-day when one funeral service was held for eleven of the victims. Five of the caskets held the bodies of members of the family of Meyer Tennenbaum, while the other six caskets contained the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cohen and their four children. The Tennenbaums and Cohens were closely related.

Except for the collapsed buildings little effect of the storm could be seen in the business section of this city and in the over-river towns in Kentucky. All debris had been removed from the streets and street cars were running on regular schedule time.

Four Persons Killed.

Washington, Ind., July 9.—The storm which swept over this section of Indiana Wednesday night not only brought a property loss estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000, but death trailed in its wake. It became known Thursday that four lives were snuffed out and three persons injured so seriously that their recovery is doubtful.

Joel Lyon, farmer, killed when home was demolished.

Twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, crushed when home was destroyed.

Howard Ward, farmer, drowned in gorged stream.

The storm paralyzed all telephone communication until a late hour last evening, which prevented the extent of the havoc becoming known before.

Twins Meet Death.

Bedford, Ind., July 9.—A combined hailstorm, windstorm and tornado struck this city Wednesday night which wrought great destruction and lasted more than an hour.

The five-room house of Elmer Johnson, a farmer, was carried seventy-five feet from its foundation. Johnson, his wife and four children were injured, but none fatally. The home of Thomas Beasley was destroyed and a daughter suffered a broken thigh.

At Indian Springs the dwelling of Clara Sanders was destroyed and two 5-year-old children, twins, were killed.

At the home of Clem Owens the family was preparing to retire when the tornado struck the house and scattered it over half a mile of territory, the furniture and bedclothing being carried away by the wind. Three of the family were severely injured.

Woman Killed At Erlanger.

Erlanger, Ky., July 9.—Erlanger and vicinity were visited by a tornado Wednesday night at 9:15 o'clock when the wind gained a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour. Houses were blown down and unroofed, outbuildings torn down and in South Erlanger Mrs. John Daule was instantly killed and three others of the family injured. It is thought her husband is dying.

Clark County Suffers.

Winchester, Ky., July 9.—The damage done by the rain and windstorm which swept over this county Wednesday night is estimated at thousands of dollars. The rain was the hardest of the year, and all of the creeks overran their banks and flooded hundreds of acres of corn and tobacco lands. Stoner creek was higher than it had been for forty-seven years. Many crops of corn have been entirely ruined.

Wind Blew a Gale.

Mt. Washington, Ky., July 9.—On Wednesday night this town and the surrounding country were visited by a heavy windstorm and much damage was done. The lightning struck several homes, but the most damage was done in the homes of Mr. G. M. Stout and Mr. Pearl King. None of the occupants was hurt. The wind blew a number of forest trees down in this place, also some of the yard fences were blown down.

Terrific Rainstorm.

Owenton, Ky., July 9.—One of the heaviest rain and windstorms in the history of the town and county visited here Wednesday night, before midnight. Many acres of tobacco and corn were ruined by the overflowing creeks. Corn, rye, oats and wheat were blown flat, a great deal of it being badly ruined. Much rye and wheat, though, had already been harvested. Large limbs were blown off of trees, and six large barns in the Jonesville neighborhood were blown down. Water rose about half a foot in the hotel owned by Mrs. Mary Spicer, at Monterey, on the Kentucky river.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"About two years ago I had a severe attack of diarrhoea which lasted for over a week," writes W. C. Jones, Buford, N. D. "I became so weak that I could not stand upright. A druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose relieved me and within two days I was as well as ever." Obtainable everywhere. Advertisement.

Enormous Crops This Year.

American farmers, confronted with feeding the world while Europe is at war, have planted record acreages of all principal crops. There is an area of 109,273,000 acres of corn—larger than ever before—and it is expected to produce 2,814,000,000 bushels, according to the Department of Agriculture's estimate. The outlook for a billion-bushels wheat crop continues good.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CLEMENT & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

William H. Howard Says He

Without Help.

Louisville, Ky., July 12.—William H. Howard, who lives at 225 West Jefferson street, here, and is widely known as an advertising man, is one of those who declares he has been greatly benefited by Tanlac, the premier preparation.

"For a long time," he said recently, "I suffered from a catarrhal affection of the stomach, and I never have found anything which did me so much good as Tanlac. I had used pretty nearly everything before my friends recommended Tanlac to me. It helped me almost at once, and I am glad to offer public testimony to its value."

Chronic catarrh, which affects the mucous membranes, is one of the most prevalent and distressing maladies known. The trouble is almost universal. Offensive breath, coughing, nervousness, sneezing, headaches, poor digestion, loss of appetite, unsound sleep and susceptibility to colds are among the results from the malady.

Tanlac has proved of special value in the treatment of catarrhal troubles. Hundreds have testified to the good it has done them. It is now being sold in Hartford at the Ohio County Drug Co.'s drug store, by Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, L. C. Morton & Son, Centertown, (Advertisement)

Moonshine Raids.

Lexington, Ky., July 10.—Reports have been received by the local revenue office of successful moonshine raids in Owsley and Jackson counties, southeast of this city, in which fourteen stills and a large quantity of beer were destroyed. One of these stills was located only a few miles from McKee, the county seat of Jackson county, and was running at full blast. These series of raids were prosecuted by Deputy Collector J. C. Russell, of Glasgow, and posse.

POWERFUL GUN FOR USE ON U. S. SUBMARINES

Washington, July 12.—Officials of the Navy Department are confident that in the new three-inch disappearing gun developed by experts of the Bureau of Ordnance for use on submarines in surface fighting, the American navy will have a submarine armament at least the equal, if not better, than that of any other navy in the world. The new weapon has been perfected after experiments which lasted almost two years.

In an announcement Secretary Daniels said that so far as practicable, all submarines now in the service would be equipped with the new weapons as well as all such craft in the future. The gun shortly will be mounted on the new submarine M-1, now under construction in New York.

The addition of guns to the equipment of submarines was made necessary because of the increase in size, speed and cruising radius of such craft in other navies.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF KENTUCKY

JAMES P. EDWARDS.

In submitting my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, to be voted for in the primary to be held on August 7, 1915, I ask the support and influence of Democratic voters of our party. I believe the principles enunciated in the Democratic national platform of 1912 and in the Kentucky Democratic platform of 1911 to be the supreme law of the party, as expressions of the will of the majority until changed by the party in convention assembled.

I believe that the only just government derives its policy from the consent of the governed. That public officials are servants, not masters, of the people. I believe in the greatest degree of individual liberty that is consistent with the welfare of society. I heartily endorse the revision of the tariff downwards—in fact, all the acts of the National Administration, and especially the course of that greatest of living Democrats—the Hon. Woodrow Wilson—in dealing with the European situation in Kentucky for its efforts to insure our national peace at all costs save at the expense of our national honor, and believe it the duty of every good citizen to uphold his banner in the present crisis, regardless of party affiliation.

I heartily commend the present administration in Kentucky for its efforts to redeem, and in redeeming, the pledges made to the people in the Democratic platform of 1911, in the enactment of a direct primary law to insure fair elections in Kentucky and that any man might submit his claims for office to the voters. I am in favor of the extension and betterment of the schools of Kentucky so that the children of people in all walks of life may receive the degree of education that will put them on an equal footing with the children and youth of that State now affording the best educational advantages in the country.

I approve of the women of Kentucky, to whose hearts this subject is especially dear, voting in all school elections.

I favor laws to destroy all corrupt lobbying in Kentucky.

I favor removing the prisons of Kentucky from political and for humane laws governing prisoners, looking to their reform, and in accordance with the advance thought of the day on this subject.

I am for an economic administration of the government, the abolition of useless offices and that same degree of care in the expenditure of the people's money as is exercised in private life; for the liquidation of the State debt and believe that a State like an individual, should live within its income.

I favor the constitutional amendment for a change in the method of taxation in Kentucky to the end that all property shall bear its just proportion of taxation, and that capital may be invited to avoid its just burden of the expenditure necessary to operate the government.

I favor the enactment of laws permitting co-operation among farmers and among all classes of labor sufficient to procure fair markets for their products and to prevent the antroachment of monopoly on their rights.

I am in full accord with the spirit of road building and improvement that is abroad in our State. Roads are the arteries of commerce. Good roads bring markets to producers, assist in disposing of products, stimulate neighborhood intercourse and travel and are of the greatest aid in the development of our State.

I believe with Woodrow Wilson, and as stated in the 1911 Kentucky Democratic platform, that "temperance is essentially a moral, non-political and social question, and should not be made a partisan issue between political parties," and I approve the passage of the county unit law in compliance with the platform pledge of 1911.

I am unalterably opposed to State-wide prohibition as undemocratic, unfair to an interest which, by the invitation of our laws, has so much money invested in this business in Kentucky and which pays such a large proportion of the taxes of our State. I am not in favor of reducing our State to the pitiable condition of bankruptcy that exists in West Virginia and Tennessee to-day by driving this large source of revenue from the State. I do not believe that any general demand or sentiment exists in Kentucky for State-wide prohibition, but this question has been forced on the voters by a few politicians in the defiance of the mandates of the 1911 platform, hoping thereby to ride into office and control of the State in the favor of each locality governing its own affairs on this and every other question, and I think this to be true Democracy.

The fact that 106 out of 120 counties in Kentucky are dry shows that the present law is ample and those counties opposed to the sale of liquor can vote for the repeal of the law. There are laws against the illegal sale of liquor as there are laws against crimes of violence, and I believe that each county should punish and control its bootleggers as it punishes its other criminals. The enforcement of the law in any community keeps pace with public opinion.

I believe the people of Kentucky are tired of the liquor question, and if elected, so far as in my power lies, they shall not hear of it for four years.

I believe we have had too much bitter politics, too much personal politics, too many useless laws, too much factionalism and too little real work for the rebuilding of Kentucky. Not that I believe that laws can supplant individual effort, or that we can by legislation make a "promised land." Laws can not create wealth; it must come through individual effort; but let us in Kentucky make all men truly equal before the law, and assure each man a fair chance that he may enjoy the reward of industry, and let us have equal and exact justice to all and exclusive privileges to none.

I was a candidate for this nomination in 1911, and defeated according to the official count by a plurality of 1,562 votes. I hope to win this time, and hope that the Democrats of Kentucky will receive kindly this second thrusting of myself upon the political stage. I have no axes to grind, no sores to heal, no malice toward any man or set of men, and no debts to pay except those of gratitude for the support I received before. I was born in Kentucky, my ancestry came through the Cumberland Gap from Virginia in 1787 and settled in Nelson county. We have lived upon Kentucky soil ever since. Every sentiment and tie of my ancestors and myself is in Kentucky. I love and honor her history. Every hope for the future of my children is linked to Kentucky and its future. I was educated in the common schools and graduated at Centre College. I have practiced law in Jefferson county and for a while in Caldwell county since my majority. I have served two terms in the Kentucky Legislature. What ability I have to fill this office I leave for those who know me to say. That I will do my full duty as I see without fear or favor and with due regard to what I have here in said, I affirm.

I appeal to you for your vote and help and influence. If you will favor me with this nomination I shall use my utmost endeavor to wage with your other nominees a successful fight in November. Whatever shall be your decision on I shall, as I have always done in the past, support at the polls and on the stump the nominees of our party. I believe in majority rule and shall abide by it.

The Democratic National Administration is entitled to a vote of confidence. Kentucky is, and of right ought to be, a Democratic State. After we have selected our nominees we will get together and pile up an old-time Democratic majority in November.

Thanking you for your consideration of this announcement and respectfully requesting your support and aid as an obedient servant, JAS. P. EDWARDS.

WEST VIRGINIA

State Wide Prohibition Paralyzes the State.

Higher Taxes—Worse Conditions.

The West Virginia Legislature convened in May, the second time this year, to consider tax questions made necessary by a shortage of revenues to pay the current expenses of the State.

The inauguration of State-wide prohibition, last July, cut off $650,000.00 of revenues heretofore available.

At the close of the fiscal year, September 30, 1912, the State had a surplus in the treasury of $592,475.39.

The Governor estimated that on July 1, 1915, there would be a deficit of $624,000.00, not counting $850,000.00 of old appropriations not expended.

The Legislature, at the May special session, increased the tax rate in the State 40 per cent to make up the deficit in revenues caused by the State-wide prohibition system.

For lack of funds, Governor Hatfield vetoed appropriation bills amounting to $858,608.09. Among the vetoed appropriations are the following:

Transportation of prisoners and extradition of criminals, $5,000.00 a year;

Girls' dormitories and agricultural buildings, State University, $100,000.00.

State Industrial Home for Girls (buildings and lands), $10,000.00 for next year;

Normal Schools (buildings and land), $80,000.00 a year;

State Tuberculosis Sanitarium (buildings and land), $15,000.00 a year;

State hospitals (buildings and land), $35,000.00 a year;

Public Service Commission, $60,000.00 a year;

Mining extension work, State University, $10,000.00 a year;

Civil contingent fund, $20,000.00 for current year;

Rewriting and rebinding Auditor's records, $5,000.00 a year;

Protection of forests and propagation of fish and game, $19,000.00 a year;

Prevention foot and mouth disease, $5,000.00;

State militia fund, $65,000.00 a year;

Repairs and improvements, State institutions, $5,000.00;

Hotel Inspector, $1,562.50;

State Colored Orphans Home (buildings and land), $3,000.00 a year;

State Librarian, $500.00 a year;

Point Pleasant monument, $2,500.00 a year;

King's Daughters and city hospitals, $10,000.00 a year;

Factory inspectors, $4,000.00 a year.

Since the adoption of prohibition, violations of the liquor laws have increased enormously. Bootleggers are busy all over the State. On the first day of May, 1914, before prohibition went into effect, there were 39 prisoners in the county jail at Charleston, the capital of the State. On the first day of May, 1915, there were 92 prisoners in the same jail.

All diamonds, watches, clocks, jewelry, gold and silverware, paintings, musical instruments, and libraries are assessed at..... 2,902,535.00

$31,387,000.00 is the capitalization of Kentucky distilleries and breweries, according to the last Federal Census, is the assessed value of Whisky in U. S. Bonded Warehouses, in Kentucky, on which State and county taxes are paid.

$19,250,000.00 is the assessed value (approximately) of properties used in the distilling and brewing industries and liquor trade in Kentucky, not including any part of items given above.

$6,500,000.00 is the amount paid out annually in Kentucky by distilleries for grain.

$2,290,000.00 is paid annually for wages and salaries by Kentucky distilleries and breweries.

$2,405,000.00 is paid annually for coal and barrels by Kentucky distilleries and breweries.

$600,000.00 annually is paid to Kentucky Banks in interest to $900,000.00 by Kentucky distilleries and breweries.

$60,000,000.00 annually is brought into Kentucky in bank clearances by the distilling and brewing industries.

$921,254.15 is the amount paid in taxes in Kentucky by the distilling and brewing industries in 1913, as given by statements from the State Auditor's office.

This sum is more than the combined taxes paid on all the merchandise, coal mines, oil wells, live stock, agricultural products, and manufactured products in the State.

State-wide prohibition will destroy entirely, for taxation purposes, these sources of revenue. Other property must then be taxed heavier to make up that loss.

If Farm Lands are compelled to pay it, the tax on farms must be 50 per cent more than at present.

If Live Stock is made to pay it, that class of property must be taxed three times what it is at present.

If Railroads are to pay it, their assessment must be doubled.

If Mining Property is required to pay it, their assessment must be increased to more than 100 times what it is now.

WHO IS WILLING TO PAY THESE EXTRA TAXES?

And what will we get? Conditions similar to those in Tennessee and West Virginia, and we will drive out of the State our largest taxpaying industries.

Nothing will be gained for temperance. Counties can vote themselves as "dry" under the present law as State-wide prohibition could make them.

TENNESSEE

Six Years of State Wide Prohibition Bank-
rupts State.

More Crime Than Ever Before.

Tennessee has had State-wide prohibition for six years.

Before the prohibition law went into effect, 10 per cent of the revenues of the State were applied to paying off the State debt, as provided by law, thereby rapidly discharging it. Since prohibition deprived the State of large revenues from taxes on the manufacturers of liquors and beer, the sinking fund law was suspended, and payments on the State debts stopped.

The present Legislature found that there was a deficit in State revenues of $1,022,000.00. Short-time notes have been given to cover that deficit, the same to be converted into 30-year bonds next July. This will increase the bonded indebtedness of the State to a total of $12,500,000.00.

Taxes have been largely increased. The State Manufacturers' Association, in 1914, stated in its report on Taxation:

"There is a tendency throughout the State to increase taxes on an already overburdened people, both by constant increase of the assessment as well as the rate."

Since that report was made, the Legislature has passed a new Revenue and Assessment Act, increasing many kinds of taxes from 40 to 100 per cent, the entire tax burden being nearly twice what it was before prohibition went into effect.

In 1908, the year before State-wide prohibition was adopted, the cost of criminal prosecutions in Tennessee was $158,000.00. According to official figures submitted to the Legislature that has just adjourned, $342,000.00 was expended for criminal prosecutions last year. This shows an increase of nearly 100 per cent in crime in six years under prohibition.

The city of Nashville recently issued bonds for $987,000.00 to cover a deficit caused largely by the operation of the prohibition law. The other large cities of the State are in a similar financial condition, due to the same causes.

In Tennessee, prohibition has not helped the taxpayer, nor has it improved moral conditions. Exactly the reverse has been the result. Large numbers of extra officeholders, and greatly increased expenses for their support and for prosecuting violations of the law, are the main features of present conditions.

Blind tigers, bootleggers and moon-shining have taken the place of lawful, regulated liquor traffic; there has been a steady increase in all crimes; moral standards have been lowered; and TAXES HAVE DOUBLED.

KENTUCKY CROP REPORT, JULY 1, 1915.

The crop conditions in Kentucky July 1st are unusual for this time of the year and are so dependent upon the weather that it is to follow that it is impossible to predict just what the outcome will be. The month of June continued cold and cloudy with a rain fall that handicapped the farmer the entire month. The wheat has practically all been harvested and some threshing has been done. There has been but little injury to wheat in the shock as yet, but a continuation of the weather will start the wheat to sprouting in a very short time. A preliminary estimate of the wheat yield in the State is 9.9 bushels per acre, but threshing has not progressed sufficiently to give a final estimate. The Hessian fly has done a great deal of damage to the wheat crop and the yield will not be as large as estimated.

The condition of the corn crop is given at 89 per cent. Much of the corn was planted late owing to the continued rains. The lowlands have been overflowed and farmers have had to replant these. Lands have been packed and grass and weeds are plentiful.

The month has been favorable for transplanting tobacco. Plants have been plentiful and good stands have been secured. There is some complaint of "freching" and some fields are full of crab grass, but a period of dry weather conditions would enable the farmers to give the cultivation needed and insure a large sized crop of both burley and dark tobacco. The condition of burley for this month is 92 per cent. and dark is 89 per cent.

Gardens are way above the average, the condition of same being given at 97 per cent. Pastures and grasses are good. Alfalfa shows a condition of 92 per cent., orchard grass 93 per cent., blue grass 88 per cent. and soy beans 90 per cent. Soy beans show a condition of 88 per cent. and cow peas 90 per cent. The acreage of these leguminous plants is large. The condition of fruits is given as follows: Apples 79 per cent., peaches 79 per cent., plums 87 per cent., pears 71 per cent. and grapes 87 per cent. Complaint is made of fruits falling from the trees due in great measure to the rain and wind storms that cold weather has been destructive to pigs and young poultry. The turkeys have been so prevalent. The damp key crop will not be large and condition is given at 83 per cent., while chickens are given at 92 per cent.

A summary of this report shows that conditions are favorable provided there is not a continuation of extreme wet weather. The general tone of the reports is optimistic. There is no doubt but it is possible and the indications are favorable for a reasonable all around crop yield with no indications of a record yield in any way.

London, July 10.—Subscriptions ranging from 100 pounds upwards to the greatest war loan in the history of the world close automatically at Bank of England at 1 o'clock to-day, except for applications posted up to midnight. Government authorities adhere strictly to the iron rule to refuse information regarding the amount applied for, but in the opinion of the city, the response must have been gratifying.

Very large subscriptions are known to have been received from insurance companies, banks and commercial houses in the Colonies as well as in Great Britain. Lombard street's contribution, it is believed, will be $1,000,000,000. Stock brokers and suburban and provincial bankers have reported an increasing number of applications within the last few days, so that the total amount of new money subscribed is estimated at 3,000,000,000, while with the conversion of consols and the old war loan, is expected to bring the aggregate amount asked. BARNEY OLDFIELD AND
HIS DARING COMPANION

Will Be At the Soldiers' Encampment At Owensboro, July 15-22.

Barney Oldfield, greatest of all the world's automobile racing drivers, and De Loyd Thompson, the most wonderful aviator who ever sailed through the air, will be at Owensboro, Ky., Thursday, July 22d, to give exhibitions of their marvelous work, in connection with the State Guard Encampment which will be there beginning July 15th and lasting until the 25th.

The exhibitions will be beyond any doubt the most notable to ever have been offered in this part of the country. All over the United States Thompson and Oldfield have been greeted by huge and enthusiastic crowds, who were thrilled by their death-defying actions on earth and in the air.

Thompson will show to the visitors and citizens of Owensboro that day a first glimpse of the famous loop-the-loop. The aviator will ascend into the air a few hundred feet and then make several complete somersaults. Then, just to show his contempt for the laws of gravity, he will fly upside down, and descend to earth in a long drop that makes his spectators fear every second for his life.

The race which Thompson in his biplane and Oldfield in his record-holding automobile engage, is thrilling in the extreme. At times, while going faster than 100 miles an hour, the birdman and the auto pilot are only a few inches apart, the air machine darting over its rival's head like a huge bird.

Thompson will also show what the aviators of Europe are doing in the great international conflict by presenting a war feature, in which he will be assisted by the entire three regiments of the Kentucky Guard, some 3,000 strong. This big feature attraction will afford a spectacle that is worth going miles to see, as it is seldom we have a chance to occupy a good seat in the grand stand and witness real warfare without the horrors of war.

All of these attractions have been made possible by the continued efforts of the Owensboro Chamber of Commerce through the efforts of C. A. Payne, Jr., who has been working untiringly on this entertainment for the past sixty days. Rates have been secured on all of the railroads and Owensboro will on Thursday, July 22d, entertain one of the largest crowds ever in the city. Ample provisions are being made to look after everybody's welfare and a general good time is expected by all.

NEW YORK'S BIG LIST OF UNSOLVED MURDERS

New York's police department is "practically impotent to check wholesale killings or apprehend murderers." Convictions growing out of grand jury cases average less than one in two. Of the 179 murders committed in Manhattan last year seventy-five remain unsolved, and as a consequence more than 100 killings have been added in Manhattan alone "to the list of the city's unsolved homicides." In the last seven months "not one step has been taken" toward solving the murder of Barnett Baff.

All this is asserted by William Bullock, director of the Bureau of City Inquiry, an investigating body supported by Tammany Hall, in a letter to Mayor Mitchell.

"The police department is a responsibility resting particularly on the Mayor, and statistics compiled by this bureau indicate that murder has become one of the safest crimes to commit," asserts Mr. Bullock. "As a result of police failure scores of murderers are walking the streets of the city to-day unmolested. The statistics compiled for the entire city cover the five months from January 1 to June 1, 1915. In this five-month period seventy-nine murders were committed. In only a few cases has efficient police work been done."

Giving a list of thirty-one "specific cases of unsolved murders in five months," Mr. Bullock says this "by no means represents the sum of the police failures." He continues:

"Futile arrests have been made in the case of other murders; week by week certain of these murders are being added to the unsolved list."

THIS WAS "THE BLOW
THAT KILLED FATHER"

An incident of the recent Republican convention has not, we believe, ever found its way into the public prints. Judge Ed C. O'Rear, who was leading the prohibition forces in the convention, was recognized and offered a resolution in favor of State-wide prohibition. Plausible and eloquent, there was fear among the delegates that he might stampede the convention like Bryan did the Democrats in Chicago in 1896. But at its close, a tall mountaineer named Pollard, arose and in a rich voice said:

"We have heard the eloquent words of the distinguished ex-Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals. We have been much touched by the force of his words. I move you, Mr. Chairman, that we tender an invitation to United States Senator Beckham, his late colleague on the prohibition stump, to address the convention."

The effect was electrical. O'Rear, a Republican, and Beckham, a Democrat, had lately made a partial canvass of the State for prohibition, speaking from the same platform.

All the eloquence of Judge O'Rear's speech was lost, his resolution receiving only 162 votes out of 2,400 votes in the convention. [Bowling Green Messenger.]

Davies County's Task.

Davies county serves the rest of Kentucky in making this valiant attempt to overturn the bond issue rule of the State. It does not seem just and equitable that so vital a question as the liquor question may be determined by the barest of majorities, the vote of a single man pledging a county to be either "wet" or "dry," and yet a bond issue, the effect of which is bound to be lighter on the purse and could never stir up such a wave of animosity, must go to a two-thirds vote for a victory of the "yeas." BOMBS ARE FOUND ON
VESSEL AFTER ARRIVAL

Desperate Attempts Are Being Made To Destroy Allies' War Supplies.

New York, June 10.—H. C. Hill, European representative of an American automobile company that has made large shipments of military automobiles to the Allies, arrived here to-day on the Espagne, and said that a British ship loaded here in May for Havre with a cargo of automobiles and grain for the French army, was found to have two bombs on board when she reached her destination. Mr. Hill refused to give the name of the ship, saying that to do so might hamper an investigation now under way.

One of the bombs, consisting, he said, of two metal cylinders, capped with wax, was discovered in one of the automobile cases and the other in a sack of grain. One cylinder was filled with acid, the other with a highly inflammable chemical.

The bomb in the automobile case, Mr. Hill said, was evidently designed to be exploded by the motion of the ship causing the acid and the chemical to mix. An unusually smooth passage probably resulted in the failure of the plot, he thought. One of the boards on the automobile case had been pried loose and the bomb inserted, possibly at the time the case was placed aboard the ship.

"It has also been found," said Mr. Hill, "that attempts to destroy or make useless automobiles shipped to the Allies are frequent. We are compelled to keep at Havre a large force of mechanics to examine carefully each machine even before it is tested. On several occasions during the past few months there has been found emery dust in the cylinders, which will soon make the car useless, and in some instances borings have been made in vital parts of the machinery."

Traveling Man's Experience.

"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from four a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack." writes H. W. TO GROW RED CLOVER—
A GOOD PLAN OUTLINED

The difficulties in the way of securing a stand of red clover seeded with the wheat or oats in the spring are so great that it seems we can not afford to continue the practice.

The experience of the four Experiment Stations, as well as a great many farmers located through Western Kentucky, shows that the best time to sow this crop is in the late summer or early fall, without a nurse crop, instead of in the spring with wheat or oats.

The following method of preparation has been shown to be successful: As soon as the wheat or oats are harvested, disc the land, then plow it. Keep the field well worked down during the summer, making a good seed bed. Before seed-

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Hartford Citizens.

When a Hartford citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Hartford resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

J. A. Baird, farmer, R. F. D. 5, Hartford, Ky., says: "I had been troubled with sharp twinges across my loins, together with kidney weakness. As I heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a supply from the Ohio County Drug Co. One box cured me."

ing time, apply two to four hundred pounds of acid of phosphate per acre and work it in to the soil.

Between August 20th and September 5th sow eight pounds of clean clover seed per acre.

The splendid clover that can be grown in this way will be astonishing. The next year clover will be found to be as large, if not larger than if sown the spring before.

Every farmer in western Kentucky should try a few acres in this way.

Fined For Preaching.
 Nicholasville, Ky., July 7.—The Rev. W. R. Roberts, an itinerant preacher, claiming Shelbyville as his home, was arrested here last night. He was preaching against Catholicism in the court house yard. The warrant was sworn to by two prominent Catholics. The Mayor went on his bond. Roberts was tried in court this morning and fined $20 and costs.

Fear For Wheat.
 The continued rains are causing a great deal of uneasiness among farmers and millers. It is feared that the wheat will be seriously injured and that history is about to repeat itself in the weather line, for some people with good memories recall that in 1875, after the cereal was cut and shocked it sprouted and grew just the same as when it was placed in the earth and the harvest was a total failure.—[Danville Advocate.]
